Sky - A Comfort Zone

Sometimes black, sometimes blue, sometimes grey sometimes no clue.

People who understand them, are too bad at expressing themselves. But they are not aloof when insane.

Sky is by their side always. The stormy winds to keep is filled.

In happiness and even in loneliness sitting at the edge of a cliff let tears fall out of your eyelids.

Thought enough about past of sadness.

Sky has always been my only friend who comforts me at the end.

Every night it stand still near me, peacefully.
Every morning it bits me farewell, depressingly.

Safety Begins with Awareness

Safety starts with open eyes,
A watchful heart, a mind that's wise.
A single step, a careful glance,
Can turn the odds, change circumstance.

The signs are there, both bold and small,

A caution light, a warning call.
A moment's thought before you move,

Can keep you safe, your steps improve.

Stay alert, don't rush ahead,
Think before the path you tread.
For every risk that we prevent,
Is harm and sorrow circumvent.

Awareness first, then choices sound,
This is where true safety's found.

The Strength to Accept Failures

"Failure is not the opposite of success, it's part of success". In this modern world, there is a fierce competition. People are moved by a desire to be successful in whatever they do. This desire is not wrong at all but the problem arises when we are unable to handle failure. It's good to achieve success but to have the power to accept failure is equally important. Defeats make us strong and our craving to achieve our goal becomes well-fortified. Words like 'stress', 'anxiety', 'depression' become part of our life when debacle comes to us. All these problems can be overcome by believing in oneself and a true desire to be at the top along with the power to accept all the failure that comes our way.

Autumn Mornings

Vo, it's an autumn morning, golden lights dawning,
leaves on the ground like the earth's been yawning, stepping at the door, feel that chill in the air, nature's got a new vibe and it's everywhere.

Autumn mornings, yo, we feelin' fresh,
Colors poppin', like a paintbrush flex,
Cool breeze, we breath it in, Life's a track, let's begin.

Sunrise peeking, through the trees it's seeking,
Shadows dancing, nature's secrets speaking,
Coffee steam rising warm on my hand,
Watching the world wake up, understand.

Autumn morning, yo, we feeling fresh, Colors poppin' like a paintbrush flex, Cold breeze, we breath it in,
Life's a track, let's begin.

Walking down the path, crunch of leaves Beneath, Worlds a canvas, autumn's got the beat,
Every step's a rhythm and every breath's a rhythm, Feeling so alive, in this season's prime.
Birds fly high, in the sky they glide,
Echoes of their song, in the morning tide, Footprints in the dew drops,
trace our ways,

Autumn mornings, start that day,
Autumn mornings, yo, we feelin' fresh,
Colors poppin' like a paintbrush flex, Cool breeze, we breath it in,
Life's a track, let's begin.

As the days get shorter, nights grow cold, Autumn mornings, stories told, in the rhythm of the season, find a flow, rap the moments, let them glow.

Whispers of the Digital Realm

In realms once doubted , dreams took flight, Daydreams mere shadows, now burning bright.

Behold our visions turned to gold,
Breaking barriers, stories unfold.

In whispers of wires , a hymn's soft chord,

Nature and code , in harmony soared.

Messages once on horse and dove, Now instant whispers , a digital love.

With a click world's interwine, Bliss and sorrow tales combine,
Love in pixels anger in lags,
With phones in hand we touch distant lands.

Imagine tech solving woes so grand.
Every pain it strives to withstand.
But what if chaos takes the helm, Machines reign and humans are overwhelmed.

Till the future is told,
Let's craft a world, where both can hold.
