

"Empowering Educators: Unlocking the Potential of NCF & NEP 2020"

A two-day seminar, conducted by Mr. Gaurav Solanki on 28th & 29th June 2024, revolutionized the way educators approach teaching and learning. The seminar delved into the National Curriculum Framework (NCF) and National Education Policy (NEP) 2020, equipping participants with innovative strategies to embrace the new while cherishing the old.

Day 1: Laying the Foundation

The first day began with an insightful exploration of NEP & NCF, highlighting the significance of transformational leadership. Mr. Solanki emphasized the need to love our profession and understand the psychology of students, particularly in the context of changing behaviors. Participants gained clarity on the distinction between curriculum and syllabus, and the prominent principles of NEP, including the 3-language formula.

Day 2: Shaping the Future

The second day focused on the importance of prioritizing human intelligence over artificial intelligence. Mr. Solanki discussed the changes in NCF, stressing the significance of utility quotient and foundational literacy. Participants learned to identify different types of students and understood the concept of PANCHADI, a holistic approach to education.

Activity-Based Learning

Throughout the seminar, various activity methods were employed to ensure engaging and interactive sessions. Participants were encouraged to share their experiences, fostering a collaborative environment that promoted mutual learning.

Takeaways

- Embrace the new while cherishing the old.
- Understand the psychology of students and changing behaviors.
- Distinguish between curriculum and syllabus.
- Prioritize human intelligence over artificial intelligence.
- Focus on utility quotient and foundational literacy.
- Identify and cater to different types of students.
- Adopt the PANCHADI approach for holistic education

Conclusion

The two-day seminar, led by Mr. Gaurav Solanki, was a resounding success, empowering educators to unlock the potential of NCF & NEP 2020. Participants left with a renewed sense of purpose, equipped with innovative strategies to transform their teaching practices and shape the future of education.